NIKOLAEV, AlekseyNIKOLAEV, AlekseyNIKOLAEV, Aleksey. Why are the so-called "spies" from across the ocean buying up our IT companies? Why do we need it? There will be another private army, there will be another espionage against our country, which will not go anywhere with their coven! The Internet is an expensive thing, and abroad you can get access to certain resources and in parts, but here in full. (...) Everything is done to acquire knowledge and administration of these resources. Here is such a scheme. All these botnet networks were created with one goal to give access to information to our special services. And in this sense, the fight against WikiLeaks makes sense as a retort to VimpelCom, MegaFon and MTS.  Be afraid of your desires, because they may come true. Irish proverb. Today, when they say that hackers "destroyed democracy", it means that they decided to replace the power of dictatorial Democrats with proteges of world capital. Or maybe they made it even worse! Have you now decided to stand up for democracy? Maybe for democracy as a way of governing society. Since the time of Roman law, which borrowed the concept of democracy from the Greeks, it is clear that people who are more or less objective and do not exchange justice in the pursuit of greif should be in power. As for our opposition, we must remember that a person who calls himself an oppositionist is not always such. Remember perestroika and the 1990s, when almost everyone, even the best people in Russia, were either thieves or businessmen, and often both together. And therefore, the fight against those who call themselves and are an enemy of society, all the more, if these people also claim to turn our country into a part of the world market, there is a fight against demons. When you want to see democracy in the world, you must be sure that it is not only the Anglo-Saxon or Chinese model. And when there is an opportunity to play with fire, you must always use it. This is the danger that threatens us, it really exists, and I think that Russia will be able to overcome it this time, what's the matter. It turns out that VKontakte was banned because there were about 200,000, apparently, fake recordings per day.
